

e-BO Enterprises – Front-end & back-end developer - LT

Ready to make an impact?

Do you love building digital products people genuinely enjoy using? Do modern technologies, smart solutions and clean user experiences excite you? Then you might be the perfect fit for E-BO.

We're expanding our development team in Lithuania and looking for two new colleagues: one Front-End Developer and one Back-End Developer. Different expertise, shared ambition: building innovative digital platforms used by customers across Europe.

Whether you enjoy creating intuitive interfaces or building the powerful systems behind them, you'll join a team where collaboration, ownership and fresh ideas are encouraged every day.

At e-BO, developers have real impact. We value initiative, trust people with responsibility and give you the freedom to help shape both our products and the way we work.

As a Front-End Developer, you will:

- Build modern and user-friendly web applications using ReactJS and Typescript;
- Translate ideas and UX designs into intuitive digital experiences;
- Help create applications that stay fast, stable and smooth, even for complex use cases;
- Write clean, modular and maintainable code;
- Test and improve components to ensure quality and reliability;
- Collaborate closely with colleagues to continuously improve our products.

As a Back-End Developer, you will:

- Build and maintain the systems powering our digital platforms;
- Develop scalable APIs and smart integrations;
- Ensure applications remain secure, reliable and high-performing;
- Work closely with front-end developers and other team members;
- Contribute ideas about architecture, improvements and future innovations;
- Help optimize and improve our systems over time.

What you bring to the table

- You enjoy taking ownership and building products you can be proud of;

- You communicate clearly and work well together with colleagues and customers;
- You have an analytical mindset and enjoy solving problems in a structured way;
- You have experience in software development, either front-end or back-end;
- We're open to both experienced medior and senior developers;
- You enjoy collaborating, sharing ideas and learning from others;
- You stay curious and like keeping up with modern technologies;
- You speak and write English fluently.

What we offer you

- The chance to work with modern and cutting-edge technologies;
- A team where your ideas truly matter;
- International projects with real impact;
- Flexibility, autonomy and room to grow;
- A supportive and open company culture;
- Competitive salary and attractive benefits.
